A powerful engine for education

Project ISAAC has been designed to allow students to accomplish the following goals:

1. Increase academic performance in basic skills.
2. Participate in enrichment activities including, but not limited to, music, the arts, technology applications, math, language, history, and science.
3. Participate in activities to improve health, wellness, social, and emotional behaviors.
4. Explore and develop an increased awareness of career and college options.

In working to achieve these goals, Project ISAAC will be relying on parental and community support. We strongly encourage parent and guardian participation. Volunteers will be needed to plan and chaperone events, to provide enrichment, and to offer other assistance.

- I am interested in volunteering to help with Project ISAAC activities.
- Student test scores and records are important for adapting and individualizing the curriculum. I will allow Project ISAAC staff to access my child's test scores and report card information.
- The county may release any data for required WVDE state reporting for the 21CCLC grant that funds Project ISAAC. The data is used to insure that the program is meeting the goals it is designed to meet and will in no way be linked to my child. This data will include aggregate data on the number of students receiving free and reduced lunch attending the program and the number of children with special needs attending the program.
- Project ISAAC students will participate in a number of activities and pictures will often be taken. These pictures could be used in newsletters, media, on our website, and in our project portfolio. My child may be photographed for this purpose.
- My child may utilize the internet safe sites while at Project ISAAC.
